

Candidate Research Problem Statement #1

Semiotic Approaches and Techniques for Describing Cinematography

I am studying the different semiotic approaches and techniques used in cinematography because I want to find out how these techniques are used in film to instill a certain message or idea within its viewer in order to help my reader better understand how studying signs and sign manipulation can influence high-level cognitive processes and computational representations within humans.