

3. I am studying hnefatafl AI and cognition because I want to find out about a specific game in relation to its processes in the human mind in order to help my reader understand the hidden balances in the game which a computer might find as well as cognitive processes in regards to similar board games.